

MM Young Professional Creative Marketing

Introduction

Marketing is about the whole business seen from the customer's point of view (Drucker, 1954).

The MM in Creative Marketing is a Master of Management (MM) program designed for fresh graduates (Strata-1 or equivalent) and those with little professional working experience. This program is designed for those who have passion in the marketing field and decide to pursue a career in marketing-related areas. In Creative Marketing, students will not only learn about promotion and sales related courses, but will also learn how to sense the market, craft new proposition, acquire customers, managing customer relationship, ensure the delivery of proposition and evaluate the return on investments. The program provides knowledge and skills in innovation, creative problem-solving, and cultivating entrepreneurial spirit by leveraging the development of ICT. This equips the students should they decide to launch their own businesses or become entrepreneurs in established firms.

BINUS BUSINESS SCHOOL faculty brings real-world professional and consulting experience in the area of creative industries, consumer goods, multimedia, and information communication technology to the classroom. The faculty members are consistently imparting and sharing the wisdom of their experiences to the participants. They integrate mixed teaching methodologies including, but not limited to, lectures, case studies, discussions, class presentations, summaries, and field projects.

Award/Degree

- MM degree from BINUS UNIVERSITY

Study Completion Requirements

To complete MM degree (in Creative Marketing) at BINUS BUSINESS SCHOOL Master Program, students must complete a minimum of 42 SCUs, all of which are mandatory courses.

Teaching, Learning, and Assessment Strategy

The teaching, learning and assessment methods used in the program, such as case studies, group discussion, individual/group project assignment and presentation, and consulting project with a real-life client, are designed to enhance the students' capability in applying comprehensive marketing approaches in decision making process and to sharpen their critical and creative problem-solving skills. The problem-based learning will train students to be a hands-on marketer by solving the real clients' problems in marketing lab in the class and to develop necessary marketing research skills to get consumer insights in the marketing lab facilities. The utilization of ICT to support learning and decision making will also be encouraged.

The innovation habit will be developed through course assessments that put weight on content comprehension and innovation. The innovation thinking approach, or commonly referred to as Design Thinking, will equip students with necessary skills to innovate. Students are required to translate their selected innovative ideas into a visible design to comprehend the end-to-end innovation process. This innovation thinking approach is implemented in the teaching, learning, and assessment process of several courses throughout the program.

Additional events such as Market Update in the beginning of period, CMO Chat as well as guest lecturers will also give students a new perspective on how to relate theoretical marketing foundations with current practices and give them exposure to social and professional networks. At the end of program, students are required to write thesis that will assess students' comprehensive understanding of marketing concepts learnt in the program.

Employability and Career Support

A wide range of career opportunities in marketing area such as market analyst, market researchers, digital marketers, brand manager, product development manager, data scientist, advertising manager as well as entrepreneur would be available in the market for students after completing the eighteen months of study program. The integrated curriculum is designed, developed and prepared to support students in building on their technical and non-technical marketing skills as well as engaging with the related industry.
