

Interior Design

Introduction

Interior Design is one of 16 Creative Economy sub sectors in Indonesia. According to Gazali, A. and Nadinastiti (2015), interior design is "... activities that solve interior function and quality problems, provide interior space related services, and prepare drawings and documents related to interior spaces to improve quality of life to meet health, safety aspects. and public convenience. ". Therefore, the interior design subsector has an important role in adding competitive advantage to Micro-Small-Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) products and industries through exploration of designs related to community and environmental interests. In this case, the role of Interior Design is related to the creative process and design decisions that ultimately can produce solutions in the form of creative work that has added value and can contribute to local and global problems and solutions that potentially increase the welfare of local society.

Starting 2008, BINUS UNIVERSITY @Greater Jakarta has opened Interior Design Department in the School of Design. Our aim is to prepare successful graduates in interior industry as well as enabling them for the global community. The creative design results are involving the design research and design processes that include design analysis, design development, effective design decision making, project prototyping, and project evaluation. For example, the ability to implement the substitute materials derived from waste materials as part of the interior design elements, such as wall, floor, ceiling, furniture, and interior accessories design potentially become student's competitive advantage in resulting good design results, moreover if the waste material processes involved local communities, and MSMEs. The students, then, will learn, understand and able to implement the creative design work projects that has competitive advantage values, support the sustainability of MSMEs and contribute to the welfare of local society.

In addition, students are welcome to join the Interior Design Student Association and other student activities under Binus University.
