

Digital Communication

Introduction

Digital Communication BINUS University Malang prepares future communication professionals who combine creativity, communication expertise, data analytics, and artificial intelligence to create meaningful impact in the digital world. In today's digital economy, organizations need professionals who can not only communicate effectively, but also understand audience behavior, analyze communication data, leverage emerging technologies, and develop strategic solutions across digital platforms. Students learn how to create content, build digital communities, analyze communication trends, utilize AI-powered tools, and address ethical challenges in digital environments. Through the BINUS 2+1+1 learning model, students gain industry experience, international exposure, and practical competencies that prepare them for careers in media, technology companies, creative industries, corporations, startups, public institutions, and global digital ecosystems.

Vision

To become an internationally recognized leading study program in the development and application of innovative, ethical, and data-driven Digital Communication to empower society and contribute to national and global community.

Mission

The missions of Digital Communication Program are:

1. To provide world-class education in Digital Communication by integrating communication theories, professional practices, and digital technologies to produce graduates who are adaptive to industrial and societal dynamics.
2. To develop graduates as strategic communicators and digital innovators equipped with competencies in storytelling, digital content production, communication data analytics, platform literacy, as well as ethical awareness and digital communication governance.
3. To advance high-impact research and scholarly publications in Digital Communication that address national and global issues while contributing to the development of communication studies and societal problem-solving.
4. To conduct community engagement programs based on digital communication aimed at enhancing media literacy, community empowerment, and quality of life through the responsible use of communication technologies.
5. To foster lifelong learning, entrepreneurship, and innovation culture in digital communication to develop BINUSIAN with exemplary character, global competitiveness, and the capacity to act as agents of social transformation.

Program Objective

The objectives of the program are:

1. To provide a high-quality learning environment supported by competent lecturers and advanced digital technologies in order to produce graduates who master both theoretical and practical aspects of Digital Communication, including content production, digital storytelling, and platform-based communication.
2. To equip students with critical, ethical, and data-driven thinking frameworks for designing, analyzing, and evaluating digital communication practices, including communication research, social media data analytics, and issues of digital communication governance and ethics.
3. To prepare graduates as strategic communicators, professionals, and digital innovators with strong organizational, business, and creative industry knowledge, enabling them to adapt to the dynamics of the digital economy and entrepreneurial opportunities in the communication field.
4. To encourage student engagement in academic activities, research, and community service based on digital communication to enhance media literacy, community empowerment, and sustainable social development.

Student Outcomes

After completing the study, graduates are:

1. Able to conduct social research using communication perspective
2. Able to perform multi-channel communication
3. Able to implement humanity value and professional ethics in communication practices
4. Able to design and evaluate strategic digital communication initiatives based on data insights and professional standards
5. Able to apply interdisciplinary knowledge and skills in developing alternative solutions for problem solving

Prospective Career of the Graduates

Communication Study Program offers extensive industrial fields with prospective careers such as:

1. Digital Communication Analyst
2. Digital Storyteller and Copywriter
3. Digital Media Specialist
4. Digital Marketing Specialist
5. Data Analyst
6. Digital Communication Consultant
7. Digital Governance Specialist
8. Creative Content Specialist

Curriculum

The Digital Communication Program consists of 146 credits completed over eight semesters. Through BINUS University's distinctive 2+1+1 learning model, students spend two years strengthening academic foundations, one year exploring mobility opportunities and interdisciplinary learning experiences, and one year participating in professional enrichment activities. Students benefit from collaborations with industry partners, media organizations, technology companies, government institutions, startups, and international universities through guest lectures, global learning experiences, collaborative projects, field studies, and enrichment opportunities. Learning activities are supported by advanced facilities including content production laboratories, multimedia editing laboratories, digital communication studios, conference laboratories, and smart classrooms designed to support contemporary communication practices.

Your Learning Journey

Year 1 – Build Strong Communication Foundations Develop fundamental competencies in communication science, interpersonal communication, public speaking, communication ethics, psychology, and professional writing.
