

Global Business Chinese

Introduction

Established in 2002, the Chinese Department is part of the Faculty of Humanities and has been awarded Grade A accreditation by the National Accreditation Board for Higher Education (BAN-PT). It also holds international accreditation from the Higher Education Evaluation and Accreditation Council of Taiwan (HEEACT). The Chinese Department offers a comprehensive program covering language skills, Chinese culture, business, and technology. The curriculum is designed to equip students with practical communication and socialization skills in Chinese, enabling them to thrive in the workplace across various industry sectors. BINUS UNIVERSITY is committed to educating the next generation and preparing them for competing in the global market. The Chinese Department of BINUS UNIVERSITY is the key to a fascinating career in the Chinese workplace. The Chinese Department opens doors to a world of opportunities through partnerships with top universities in China, Taiwan, and beyond. Students and alumni can choose from a variety of programs - short courses, study tours, field trips, and exchange programs - all designed to enrich their academic and cultural experiences. Attractive full scholarships are also available, offering the chance to study Chinese language for one year, pursue a master's degree in two to three years, or complete a doctoral degree in three to four years. With these diverse pathways, students gain invaluable international experience and global perspectives that will set them apart in today's competitive world. Beyond academic learning, the Chinese Department offers a one-year internship program that allows students to gain valuable real-world experience by working with international, national, and multinational companies in diverse sectors. This hands-on opportunity helps students develop professional skills and build networks before graduation. The Chinese Department also offers some Minor and Free Elective programs, allowing students to explore their interests, develop their abilities, and apply them to their future careers. Through this flexible structure, students can access a wide range of subjects such as Computer Science, Design, Hospitality, Culinary Arts, and many more, broadening their skills and perspectives beyond their major field of study.

Vision

To become a leading study program that aims to develop talents who are excellent in Mandarin language skills, Chinese culture, and business, as well as skilled in the use of technology and participate in fostering and empowering the nation and global society.

Mission

Building the nation and contributing to the global community by providing graduates who are competitive in Chinese as well as competitive in the business environment in various industrial sectors through:

1. Educating BINUSIAN through learning Chinese language, culture, and business with comprehensive cross-disciplinary learning in prospective fields with global standards.
2. Solving the nation's problems through researchbased education in the fields of Chinese language, culture, and business with cross-disciplinary applications.
3. Fostering Binusians as lifelong learners through education inside and outside the classroom.
4. Empowering of Binusians to be able to contribute to global dynamics to improve people's welfare.
5. Increase global credibility through Chinese language, culture, and business education to enrich the BINUS Higher Education system..

Program Objective

The objectives of the program are to:

1. Cultivate graduates who are able to communicate effectively in Mandarin and demonstrate an understanding of Chinese culture.
2. Develop graduates with the ability to use technology to support professional excellence in contexts involving Chinese language, cultural understanding, and business practices.
3. Nurture graduates who apply Chinese business ethics and knowledge to actively contribute to and empower society.

Student Outcomes

After complete the study, graduate are:

1. Able to communicate skillfully in Mandarin, both spoken and written in various contexts according to HSK level 4 and HSKK Intermediate standards.
2. Able to translate Mandarin into Indonesian and vice versa in writing and orally in accordance with established translation norms and practices.
3. Able to demonstrate the ability to analyze aspects of language, culture, and current issues in Indonesia and China in accordance with Mandarin grammar and linguistics, and express findings through written works in Mandarin or Indonesian, or apply them in relevant professional contexts.
4. Able to demonstrate the ability to integrate Mandarin communication skills with knowledge of business processes for effective application across diverse industry sectors.
5. Able to demonstrate the ability to apply interdisciplinary knowledge and skills to develop and implement alternative solutions for complex problem-solving.

Prospective Career of the Graduates

Graduates can pursue careers as translators, international business consultants, diplomats, or project managers in multinational companies. They are equipped to establish and maintain partnerships with parties in China and other countries. Their expertise also opens opportunities to work as business consultants, international marketing specialists, and managerial staff in various sectors and fields, such as human resources, marketing, operations, and finance.

Curriculum

Core Subjects

The core focus of the Chinese Department is the development of strong Business Chinese skills — enabling students to communicate confidently and effectively in Chinese across business contexts. The program's core subjects are designed to advance students' language proficiency while building a solid understanding of Chinese business culture. Courses include Grammar, Listening, Speaking, Writing, and Reading, guiding students from elementary to advanced levels. Upon graduation, students will be exceptionally well-prepared with the language skills, cultural insights, and business communication competence needed to excel in today's competitive global workforce.

Character Building

Character-building education at BINUS develops the traits of success and integrity among students. As a result of this program, graduates achieve the ability to analyse the precise needs of their organization and approach their work professionally and responsibly.

Program Courses

The Program Courses at the Chinese Department are designed as supporting subjects that complement the core curriculum by providing essential professional knowledge relevant to mastering Business Mandarin. The program focuses on four key themes: international trade, digital marketing, e-commerce, and export-import. Each course emphasizes contextual case studies between China and Indonesia, ensuring students gain both theoretical understanding and practical application skills. In addition to expanding their professional knowledge, students will develop Mandarin language skills tailored specifically to these themes, enabling them to quickly adapt to the demands of global industries, particularly Chinese companies operating in Indonesia.

Enrichment Program (1 year)

Internship, Research, Study Abroad, Entrepreneurship, Community Development, Independent Study.
